

Healthcare | United States

Empowering people to save lives by donating blood

Versiti

Blood products and organ donations are essential for delivering fast, effective, life-saving care. With Lenovo devices powering its donation and research activities, Versiti is well placed to ensure that their hospital partners have all of the material and treatments they need to save lives.

Customer Problem

With over 3,000 laptops, desktops, and tablets powering its donation, diagnostics and research, how could Versiti ensure device management was not a distraction from its core activities?

Lenovo Solution

By sourcing endpoint devices and edge servers from Lenovo, Versiti simplifies device management and ensures that the organization has the technology to advance healthcare.

Business Impact

Equipped with Lenovo devices, clinicians, and researchers at Versiti can work more efficiently, helping to ensure that patients receive the blood, organs, and medicine they need.

“Lenovo solutions help us to work more efficiently, and this can truly transform patients’ lives.”

Kelly McCaskill

Vice President of Philanthropy, Versiti

Simplifies device management

Supports real-time donation decisions

Frees IT teams to focus on supporting research and diagnostics

Lenovo